AUTOS IN SMASH-UP

Several Accidents Occur on Reading Road Saturday Evening—Two Result in Serious Injuries—Cases Brought Up Before Judge Stone—Other Trials

Three auto accidents occurred last Saturday evening of which, two resulted in serious injuries.

The first took place near Porter road early in the evening when two motor vehicles, one coming from Boston and owned by William Pitochelli of Lawrence, and another going toward Boston, smashed head on. Three of the passengers, Michael Welsh, William Wallace and Joseph Kelley, were badly injured and were ordered taken to the Lawrence General hospital by Drs. Lane, Look and Abbott.

Later in the evening the former, Michael Welsh's, condition was reported as serious.

William Pitochelli was arrested for operating a motor vehicle without a license and put on $300 bail, but was later bailed out by his brother, Zabigo Pitochelli of Lawrence.

The trial was held Monday afternoon before Judge Stone, who found Pitochelli guilty of operating a motor vehicle without a license, and his case was placed on file. He was defended by Atty. Rocco of Lawrence, who pleaded not guilty for his client. Pitochelli's

Big Year for Building

Regardless of the high cost of building material, many people are filing applications daily to build new houses or to have something done in the line of alterations.

Building inspector, Joseph I. Pitman, reports that since the first of May, thirty applications to build new houses have been sent him and almost twice as many for certain alterations.

The local inspector has received the following applications this week: Wright Stafford, 88 Salem street, Lawrence, to build dwelling house on Wolcott avenue; Bowman C. Ellis, Hopkins street, Wakefield, to build camp at Foster's pond; Mrs. Jane F. Perkins, 8 Lewis street, Andover, to build a garage at her residence; Daniel Harrington, 14 Elm court, Andover, to build garage on premises.

John-Eather Gallery Notes

Those who enjoyed the war-work pictures of Joseph Pennell shown at the Gallery in May and June, will be interested to know that three sales were made in connection with the exhibition. "Peace and War" showed a group of munition factory chimneys with a serene-looking abbey in the background; "The Old and the New," an artistic contrast between the old wooden ship and the modern steel monster of war; and "The Embarkation Camp," a rather romantic scene of tall poplars behind the low barracks.

The photographs recently presented by Miss Susanna Smith, of the class of 1874, formerly of Andover, have been studied with much interest by students and others as they have been shown from time to time in the lower rooms of the Gallery. Last year informal exhibitions were given of Spanish Cities, Types of Beauty through the Ages, and Costumes as Represented in Art. The photographs are changed often enough to provide an inducement to visitors.

Those who have not visited the Gallery this summer should take the opportunity tomorrow (Saturday) to see the portrait by Cecilia Beaux of Mrs. George Ripley, which will be returned to the family before another week. This is probably now, the only example of the artist's work in Andover, though many will probably remember seeing in Professor Graves' house, the portrait in black and white, of Mr. Henry S. Graves, whose work in helping to reforest France, Andover has so proudly followed.

The hours of opening are from two to five o'clock Saturday afternoons throughout the calendar year.

CHANGES AT TOWN FARM

Superintendent William Hooten Tenders Resignation. Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Swanton to Temporarily Fill Vacancy

The resignation of William Hooten, superintendent of the town farm, has been accepted by the selectmen and will take effect September 30th.

A special committee has been named by Moderator Alfred L. Ripley, to investigate the situation at the town farm. A report will be made at the next annual town meeting.

The care of the inmates, who number seven in a thirty-five room building, has been a costly affair for a number of years, and the town meeting authorized the moderator to appoint a special committee to investigate and make recommendations for the disposal of the town farm property and also a method for the proper care of the present inmates. The committee consists of Harry M. Eames, chairman of the board of selectmen; Hon. John N. Cole and Frank A. Buttrick.

When the farm was under Mr. Swanton's care, much produce was raised for winter supply, but nothing, has been done this year and all of the vegetables will have to be purchased, besides the loss from vegetables sold.

A new superintendent will not be appointed, but Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Swanton who were in charge of the farm previous to Mr. Hooten's coming, will assume temporary control. Mrs. Swanton was well liked by the inmates, who are pleased to know that she is again to be with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Hooten were in charge of the Methuen town farm before coming to Andover.

Red Cross

The Red Cross work rooms at the Guild house, will be opened Friday afternoons from two to five o'clock. Refugee garments and yarn for children's stockings will be given out, as there is still great need for them at once.

ELIZABETH M. SMITH, Chairman of Work Committee.

The polls opened in Andover, Tuesday at noon, but there seemed to be no great rush at any time during the day. Only 463 voted in Precinct one and 29 in Precinct two, out of a total registration of over 1700 voters. Fifty-one Democratic and 441 Republican votes were cast.

In the local vote Peter Holt won over Representative Robertson. For district attorney, Henry G. Wells led S. H. Donnell by only 30 votes. Frank S. Perkins led for state treasurer and received 152 votes. For attorney-general, Robert J. Bottomly won in a field of six, getting 135 votes to J. Weston Allen's 98, his nearest competitor. Richard H. Long on the Democratic ticket, polled 37 votes against the field for governor.

A fire loss of only $,069 per capita last year is the remarkable record achieved by the town of Harriman, Pa., a place of 5000 population, where one of the shipyards of the Emergency Fleet Corporation is located.

This figure, surprising compared with a per capita loss for the entire United States of about $2.76, covering both the town and the adjoining yards, represents fires, the causes of which are classified as follows:

25.4% due to carelessness
14.2% partly preventable
13.3% unknown

There were 295 fires, with the total loss for the year $1158,60. Careful inspections were made daily throughout the plant and the town, the total for the year being 23,896, as a result of which there were 2061 orders issued for the removal of hazardous conditions.

Another Fact Worth Considering

In January 1857 a certain individual, now living, opened an account in this bank for $10.00.

For the next fifteen years whenever he had a dollar to spare it was added to this account.

During the next seven years his savings increased until he had made a total deposit of $746.00.

Since the account was opened the bank has paid him $1615.00 and today its withdrawal value is $206.56.

We urge regular savings even if it is only $1.00 at a time.

THE SITUATION

We feel it our duty to inform our customers of the really serious shortage of clothing. Shorter hours in the mills, labor troubles in the clothing houses and a great scarcity of raw materials, together with the increased demand created by the returning armies, really have caused a serious shortage of clothing.

Our advice is, buy as soon as you are able, while good clothes are still to be had at a fairly reasonable price.

Smith and Dove Bowling Rules

The Smith and Dove bowling league has the following rules which are to be carried out:1. That the commission of seven have full and absolute control over all disputes and questions that arise from time to time and that their action be final in every case.2. That the National Duck pin and the balls that go with it be used in this league.3. That the Atlantic Coast Bowling league rules govern this league. Copy of same will be on file at the alleys.4. That each team consist of not more than eight men and if for any reason a name has to be replaced, said name must be filed with the secretary at least two days before rolling.5. In case of a dummy being rolled the team doing so takes the lowest score of each of the opposing team.6a. If a manager finds that his team cannot roll on the night scheduled he must notify the opposing team's manager not later than four of that date.
It is also necessary to notify the alley janitor of postponement. If a team fails to notify the opposing team, and does not appear on the alley schedules by 8.30 p. m., the game will count as a forfeit and four points for the team that is ready to roll, which team must roll for the pin fall and average.6b. If a manager finds that his request for a postponed game will not be granted and the other team rolls and claims the forfeit he may appeal at once in writing to the commission, giving his reasons for asking for said postponement. The commission will then take action upon same.7. That all bowlers when not rolling must not stand more than two feet in front of seat.8. Referees. Both captains get together before the game and select a referee to watch the foul line.9. Unless otherwise agreed by the opposing captains payment for bowling shall be 50-50.

The evening services at 5.00 o'clock will begin again on Sunday, October 5th.Last Monday night, the Girls Friendly Society held its first meeting of the season and will now meet regularly.
Attractive plans for the year were outlined by Miss Richards. It is expected that the new leaders will help the present associates.The Woman's Guild plans to hold its first meeting this fall on Thursday next, October 2nd, in the parish house at 2.30 o'clock. This meeting will begin with service and address by the rector. In this year, when general convention meets, international as well as local needs emphasize their cause to the women of the church. The women in this parish are cordially invited to attend this meeting of the Guild.

Andover 4, Irish Americans 0

Andover United soccer team defeated the Irish-American team of Boston on the playstead, last Saturday afternoon by four goals to nothing.
This was the town team's first game this season and it was an important one for a starter, being the first round of the State Cup competition. The local eleven showed up in good shape and played well together. Some of the men did a "come back" job and if Saturday's playing was a sample of what they are to do later in the season, they will reach their old time form.In the first half John Deymond in goal, got several hard shots to clear and handled the ball well. Two of the chances were penalty kicks and he saved both of them to the delight of the spectators. There were two penalties awarded against the visitors also, but only one resulted in a score.The game was a good one, clean and fast, though it slowed up towards the end as the visitors were in poor condition and were very tired. This, however, gave the local forwards a good chance to practice team work and their passing was clever.Tomorrow the District League will open with the Abbot Worsted Company team as the opponents. This team is a new one in the league and comes from Forge Village. The players are well known through having been with the Bunting and Methuen clubs in former seasons. This game will be played on the playstead.In the State Cup game last week, Representative James W. Robertson kicked off and was applauded as he left the pitch.

Many Extra Miles

We can show you—and prove to you—that there is a genuine money saving in the use of United States Tires.

The extra miles they give mean just so many extra dollars counted in real money.

And there are further actual economies in the saving of gas, oil, repairs and depreciation.

The reason of all this is in the tires themselves—their liveliness, ruggedness and sturdiness.

There are five United States Tires—a type for every make of car.

United States Tires are Good Tires

We know United States Tires are good tires. That's why we sell them.

Family Finished Washing

Beginning Monday, July 28, we will install the new method of Family Finished Washing

There is no reason why the women of Andover and vicinity cannot have the same advantages as the women of Boston, Malden, Winchester, and other cities, where there is an up-to-date laundry.

THE COMPLETE BASKETFUL WASHED, STARCHED AND IRONED to be charged at the rate of 7 cents per lb. plus one cent each. This includes washing and starching of pieces requiring it and the ironing of the flat work.

On the wearing apparel we will charge only for the actual time required to iron same with our new electric irons, at the rate of 45 cents per hour.

A fair amount of flat work is necessary to obtain these rates. If this is not sent, an extra charge of 10 cents per hour will be added to ironing of wearing apparel.

No starched shirts, collars, cuffs, lace curtains or woolen blankets allowed on this list. These we do only at regular list prices.

NO CHARGE LESS THAN $1.50

Washing must be sent in basket or wooden box to insure against mistakes as this kind of work is washed by itself and not marked in. This family finished gives us a chance to give individual attention to every basket and makes a desirable substitute for the wet wash, with but little added expense.

All other lines continued the same.

Noted Singer at Colonial Theatre Lawrence

Frieda Hempel, the noted Metropolitan prima donna, whom Lawrence and Andover music lovers are to welcome again on October 26th, has just returned to New York from Banff and Lake Louise in the Canadian Rockies, where she did some strenuous mountain climbing.

The glaciers had a marked fascination for the singer and fifteen or twenty miles a day was not an unusual jaunt for her when she started in search of icy grandeur. Miss Hempel gave several ten parties way up on the trails—among her guests being Zoe Elliott, the young American who wrote "The Long, Long Trail," a favorite song of the soprano's and a favorite record of her many admirers.

Rowing at twilight on Lake Moraine, hemmed in by the shadowing Rockies, was another diversion; but Miss Hempel counts the great event of her vacation, a night in a lean-to with the sky for a roof, the mountain side for a back wall, and as guardians, towering pine trees that murmured gently over the camper all night long, and shook a stinging lot of their green needles over her as a four-thirty in the morning, alarm clock. Miss Hempel promptly arose, gathered wood for the fire, cooked bacon and eggs and made a pot of delicious coffee before she called her husband from his peaceful slumbers with a rousing bit of "Dixie." Yet these are some who insist that prima donnas do not make good wives!

Miss Hempel is now at Long Beach, Long Island, enjoying a daily dip in the Atlantic, choosing a new program and preparing for the greatest concert tour of her career.

The Experienced Mechanic Knows

The mechanic who is intimately acquainted with motors will tell you, "The oil that gives best service and protection is the oil that holds its body at cylinder heat." That's why he recommends Polarine.

Adjust the oil feed correctly, and Polarine will keep your motor running with the quiet purr that indicates minimum wear on piston rings, bearings and shafts—quiet power that gives motoring much of its charm.

Buy Polarine where you buy power-full SoCony Motor Gasoline—wherever you see the red, white and blue SoCony Sign.

Star Notes

The Farmers Almanac is an interesting study for the week between September 20th and the 27th.

The sun crosses the line and begins its journey south, the 23rd. There is a new moon the same day. All the planets are in an unusual position this month. On the 20th, Jupiter rising at 1:29.

Mars at 2:07, Saturn at 3:36, Venus at 4:46 all in the morning, all passing over us during the daylight and on the 20th a conjunction of the moon with Jupiter, Uranus and Mars, and on the 22nd, with Saturn and Venus, and with little Mercury on the 23rd. Such a conjunction of our neighbors is unusual at this time. Something might be looked for out of the west besides rain, with the new moon in time on the 25th.

The sun's record is not quite plain from the almanac, as that is written to Standard time, and the day that seems the one when the night and day are at the same length by the clocks, comes on Saturday, the 27th, when the sun rises at 5:35 a. m. and sets at 5:35 p. m. But it rises in the true East on the 23rd and sets in the right West that day, and I am disappointed at not getting my East point in the rain of Tuesday morning. The West point from my attic window is my old friend, Wood Hill. Perhaps our rain will kill some enemy of the crops, although it drowns our average supply of potatoes. Anne Bradstreet's poem

"Four Seasons" gives the poetical scrap for the September page.

"Of autumn's months September is the prime—Now day and night are equal in each clime. The twelfth of this Sol reigns in the Line And doth in poleing Libra this month shine. The vintage now is ripe, the grapes are sweet, Whose lovely liquor oft is curd and blest, For nought so good but it may be abused, But it's a precious juice when well it's used."

Think of Anne's well-stocked cellar in 1670.

The twelfth of September in the new time altered in 1752 by the church, would have been the same as our September 23rd of 1919, but the sun is in Libra this year right on time, at its turn about as it was in her poem—about the only thing on time and a safe joy-ride we have had. The old almanac is full of good stuff up to the last page, the skinning of small potatoes, cleaning of water bottles, moth warfare, the saving of a half cup of milk, etc., etc. Buy your almanac early this year.

THE ANDOVER TOWNSMAN ANDOVER MASSACHUSETTS

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY

AT THE PRESS BUILDING BY THE ANDOVER PRESS

JOHN N. COLA

Entered at Andover Postoffice as Second Class Matter

A STIRRING CALL TO PATRIOTISM

A PROCLAMATION

There appears to be a misapprehension as to the position of the police of Boston. In the deliberate intention to intimidate and coerce the government of this Commonwealth a large body of policemen, urging all others to join them, deserted their posts of duty, letting in the enemy. This act of theirs was voluntary, against the advice of their well wishers, long discussed and premeditated, and with the purpose of obstructing the power of the government to protect its citizens or even to maintain its own existence. Its success meant anarchy. By this act through the operation of the law they disposed themselves. They went out of office. They stand as though they had never been appointed.

Other police remained on duty. They are the real heroes of this crisis. The State Guard responded most efficiently. Thousands have volunteered for the Guard and the Militia. Money has been contributed from every walk of life by the hundreds of thousands for the encouragement and relief of these loyal men. These acts have been spontaneous, significant and decisive. I propose to support all those who are supporting their own government with every power which the people have entrusted to me.

There is an obligation, inescapable, no less solemn, to resist all those who do not support the government. The authority of the Commonwealth cannot be intimidated or coerced. It cannot be compromised. To place the maintenance of the public security in the hands of a body of men who have attempted to destroy it would be to flout the sovereignty of the laws the people have made. It is my duty to resist any such proposal. Those who would counsel it join hands with those whose acts have threatened to destroy the government. There is no middle ground. Every attempt to prevent the formation of a new police force is a blow at the government. That way treason lies. No man has a right to place his own ease or convenience or the opportunity of making money above his duty to the State.

This is the cause of all the people. I call on every citizen to stand by me in executing the oath of my office by supporting the authority of the government and resisting all assaults upon it.

Given at the Executive Chamber in Boston, this twenty-fourth day of September, in the year of Our Lord one thousand nine hundred and nineteen and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and forty-fourth.

CALVIN COOLIDGE

"Scrap the Primary"

Quite a number of newspaper editorials have been written on the above topic since Tuesday, and it would do no harm if every newspaper in Massachusetts would use the same topic pretty regularly until such time as the Legislature shows sufficient courage to repeal the law. If there was ever a silly piece of legislation passed it was the legislation that put the nomination of candidates directly in the hands of the voters. It was never sound, and results have proven how unsound it really was. Now that Massachusetts reaches the very highest point in her long line of sad experience with unfit candidates, there is some likelihood that we may yield to the demand that for at least the highest officers on the state ticket we restore the convention system of selection. It won't be any mistake even if this is taken up at the special session of the Legislature, when the public mind is thoroughly focused on the kind of things that can happen under the direct primary, and the call is almost universal among decent-thinking people for its repeal. In this connection it will be interesting to see what the attitude of the Democratic party will be in the light of the hand-picking methods that have been followed by the State Committee representing that party for every candidate that it chooses except the Governor.

Referring to the affair of last Tuesday, and without any comment as to the equipment or availability of any particular candidate who may have succeeded in that primary, a few observations may not be out of place. Of course, the most surprising result that perhaps has ever been seen in Massachusetts politics was that which placed in nomination Mr. Burrell for State Treasurer. Entirely apart from the desire which many leading Republicans had for the nomination of Colonel Perkins to this position, there are certain peculiarities associated with Mr. Burrell's success that ought not to go unnoticed by any Massachusetts citizen. Mr. Burrell insists, in a widely circulated interview, that the fact that his name was so near that of Mr. Burrill, for five years State Treasurer of Massachusetts, was a handicap rather than a help, and then proceeds to acknowledge what was manifest to everybody in the state, that he took pains to advise the public that he was at present a Representative in the Legislature, further stating that he published his picture to show that he was not attempting to sail under false colors.

He then goes on to state that the reason he was nominated was because he did the best advertising that any candidate for state office had ever done in Massachusetts. The writer has been a very close observer of advertising for some time, but has failed to see a single one of Mr. Burrell's cards in which he took any pains to explain the difference between the would-be Treasurer, and the Treasurer that is; but did see plastered all over the state from Cape Cod to the Berkshires a big card bearing the picture of Mr. Burrell and bearing the single word "Burrell" without any initials or other distinguishing mark.

In other words, again from some knowledge of advertising, it appeared to the writer that Mr. Burrell was handling the popularity of Mr. Burrill in exactly the same way that "Hoxie" attempted to do business on the name of "Moxie", and that "Roca Cola" attempted to do business on the name of "Coca Cola". In the case of an attempt to imitate a name for an advertised article (such as Mr. Burrell claims he was), when the article is confined to business and not politics, it would have been possible for the article, where copyright was infringed, to secure an injunction and stop the deceit. Unfortunately this could not be done in politics. Without question Mr. Burrell did some excellent advertising, but advertising that would not have been permitted by the courts if associated with any other commodity than a political candidacy. If Mr. Burrell is pleased with the reputation secured from that sort of business dealing he is welcome to all the satisfaction he can get out of it. If he has done nothing else he has helped the Republican party to appreciate once more how unsatisfactory the direct primary is here in Massachusetts.

Another situation directly associated with the primary has to do with the voting for the first letter of the alphabet. We expect that Mr. Allen will make a satisfactory Attorney-General. Certainly we have the highest hopes that he may, for this is one of the most important offices in the gift of the people, and never more so than it is sure to be during the coming few years, but it is a sad commentary upon the intelligence of Massachusetts voters that the first name on the ballot is worth thousands of votes in a state-wide canvass. We venture to assert that if Mr. Allen's name had been J. Allen Weston instead of J. Weston Allen in his contest of a year ago with Mr. Attwill, he would not have polled 10,000 votes. We venture further to say that under the same conditions in his contest this year, whoever headed the ticket, would have found J. Allen Weston holding a much different position. Again, this criticism has to do with the foolishness of the whole law under which we are acting and not with any particular individual except as the individual illustrates the point.

Certainly it is time to scrap the direct primary in choosing state officers.

Editorial Cinders

We wonder how long the voters of the country are to continue to stand for that kind of government which is, right now in canning season, letting any kind of a big user have all the sugar he may want while the housewives of the land are finding it practically impossible to get sugar enough to do the home canning. We presume the people will be allowed to buy the product of the big canners next winter at high prices fixed by the same government.

Room rents are high, so are all other things that represent the high cost of living—Why? Here is one fact as an illustrative answer. The Andover Press pays taxes on the same amount of property for 1919 that it did in 1918, 1917 and 1916, but the tax bill for these four years tell a striking story.

1916	tax bill	$531.27
1917	tax bill	621.27
1918	tax bill	796.15
1919	tax bill	862.50

SEASON'S CROPS IN TOWN

The 1919 Harvest Season Has Been a Trying One for Farmers

To make money by farming is quite as uncertain and exciting speculation as a venture in any other business.

The recent wet weather has played havoc with certain crops, notably tomatoes and potatoes. Selectman Francis who had planned for a fine crop of potatoes, finds on opening the hills that he has about six hundred bushels of rotten potatoes and only seventy bushels of good ones. The same unfortunate condition prevails on many farms, but in other cases the loss is not so substantial a one.

Nearly all the farmers have had a good corn crop. Few have noted the presence of the much dreaded corn borer, the only pest to interfere with this crop being the thieving grackles which in some fields descend in clouds. Geo. L. Avell has ten acres of fodder corn ready for ensilage, as well as field corn for the crib and a good crop of sweet corn already marketed.

This has been a noteworthy season for peach orchards. Not only were they a feast for the eye while in bloom this spring, but escaping the late frosts, have furnished a feast for the palate this fall. In spite of the sugar shortage, enterprising growers report that they have had no difficulty in disposing of the fruit at a fair price. The peach orchards on Mr. Barnes' farm, Twin Cedars, and N. I. Livingston's in West Parish are perhaps the best known in town. From a seven-year-old orchard, Mr. Barnes is harvesting his third crop which will amount to about a thousand bushels this season. His Mackintosh Red apples, probably two hundred bushels, are being harvested this week. Mr. Livingston has marketed fifteen hundred bushels of peaches, many of which he has disposed of at his roadside market, directly from producer to consumer.

A goodly number of the fine tomatoes which are bought in our Andover markets also come from his farm. Mr. Livingston is looking forward to a good apple crop which will amount to five or six hundred bushels. The most valuable tree on his place is a Gravenstein, which in good years has been known to bear forty-five or fifty bushels.

From an orchard set out five years ago James C. Poor of North Andover has harvested his first bumper crop of two thousand bushels. These he disposed of in Salem, Lynn and Beverly. He also has a fine showing of fall Gravensteins and Mackintosh Reds. The Tucker farm, from an orchard of Alberta peaches, planted in 1911, has produced sixteen hundred or seventeen hundred bushels.

Samuel H. Bailey reports that his best crop is French horticultural beans. He has about three hundred bushels in the pod. These are entirely free from the green worm which was the despair of many gardeners earlier in the season. He also has a good crop of peaches and apples as well as some handsome twenty-pound squashes.

Many farmers have been obliged to cut down their acreage under cultivation because of the difficulty of obtaining adequate help. One of these is Walter H. Hayes of North Andover who has been obliged to reduce his onion crop from three or four hundred to one hundred bushels. Crops such as onions, beets, and carrots which require hand weeding and thinning at a definite time present a serious problem for the farmer. Mr. Hayes has a good crop of corn, tomato and squash and believes that a little more growing weather will finish on the late cabbage.

Crops on the Carter farm in West Andover have been more or less injured by the continued wet weather. About seventy-five bushels of potatoes are so badly rotted as to be hardly worth digging. The cauliflowers are promising though slightly rusted by the dampness. This is fortunate as some farmers have had the ill luck to lose entire plantings. Since cauliflower seed costs fifty-two dollars a pound, cauliflower raising is not to be ventured upon without consideration.

Does anyone with practical knowledge of the cost of seed, fertilizer, machinery and labor, believe that the place in the economic circle where we are to begin reducing the high cost of living is occupied by the farmer?

Wedding

SHAW—MORGAN

On Friday evening, September 19th, Miss Elsie Adelaide Morgan and Mr. Frank Warren Shaw of Dorchester, were married at the house of the bride's sister, Mrs. Fay Delancey Kinney, 5 Morton street.

The bride was prettily gowned in ivory satin and old lace, caught with orange blossoms. Miss Morgan was attended only by her niece, Miss Mavis Kinney, as ring bearer.

Owing to a recent bereavement in the bride's family only the immediate relatives were present. Rev. Mr. Bigelow of the South church performed the double ring ceremony.

Free Church Notes

The Senior Christian Endeavor Society begin their social life for the season with a party for the members this evening, at the home of Miss Gladys Napier, the chairman of the social committee.

Sunday, October fifth, will be observed as Rally Day in the Free Church.

Smith and Dove Employees Guests at the Hillside

A welcoming home in the form of a dance was held last evening at the Hillside, in honor of every soldier and sailor of the Smith and Dove Manufacturing Company whose services were rendered either at home or abroad, during the World War.

Dancing began at eight o'clock and lasted until twelve, and all those present, which numbered nearly a hundred young people, spent a very enjoyable evening.

Music for dancing was rendered by violinist Gibson of North Andover, and pianist Doherty, also of North Andover. Miss Annie Hennessey of Andover, gave a much appreciated solo, and received great applause. Refreshments, including ice cream, coffee, sandwiches and cake were afterward served, and were enjoyed by all.

These may be left at the home of Mrs. Valentine not later than September 30th, when she is to pack and send them to headquarters.

Defend the Public Safety

Citizens of Andover, with the citizens of all Massachusetts, are asked to subscribe to the fund for the Defenders of Public Safety.

With the approval of the Governor of the Commonwealth, the Mayor of Boston, and the Police Commissioner of the City of Boston, the following is addressed to the citizens of Massachusetts:

The present crisis has brought forcibly to the public attention the enduring loyalty of a portion of the police force of Boston and the readiness of the military forces of the Commonwealth, to make great sacrifices to maintain the authority of their government. It is desirable that these patriotic services should be recognized by all the people. The time has come to demonstrate that the people support their government and are not unmindful of these public servants. In order that there may be a fund for these objects, it is proposed to raise a substantial sum of money, and Henry Parkman, Boston; Thomas J. Kenny, Boston; Wilmot R. Evans, Boston; Harry G. Stoddard, Worcester, and H. H. Bowman, Springfield, have agreed, for themselves and their successors in trust, to act as trustees of such fund and in their discretion to disburse it for the benefits of—

1. The members of the police force of Boston who have remained loyal during the present crisis and future appointees and the dependents of both, in every case with the approbation of the Commissioner.

2. The military and naval force of the Commonwealth and their dependents.

3. Any organization ministering to the welfare of, or any members or their dependents in, any force or organization providing for the public security of this Commonwealth; and any balance of said fund to be distributed in the absolute discretion of the trustees.

Andover has always stood for law and order. The citizens of Andover will support those men who, in the recent crisis, supported law and order in the City of Boston. We ask a generous contribution for this worthy object, and request that subscriptions be sent care of the Andover National Bank, payable to John R. Macomber, treasurer, and receipt of any moneys will be acknowledged.

It is earnestly requested that every citizen of Andover subscribe promptly and as generously as possible to this fund.

South Church Notes

There were some pretty dresses for little children exhibited by the King's Daughters at reasonable prices in the ladies' parlor last Wednesday afternoon. Some nice ones, left over, are to be obtained from Mrs. James Morris, or Mrs. Joseph H. Higginson, 73-75 Chestnut street.

Those who know Rev. Enoch F. Bell will be pleased to hear that he will occupy the pulpit of the South church on Sunday morning to tell what he has seen in his travels through Mexico, Japan and other lands, concerning the great work of our missionaries and the imperial opportunities resulting indirectly from the Great War.

The Rally Day preparations are moving forward for Sunday, October 5th, when Miss Mabel Emerson, Miss Lucy Abbott and some others are expected to speak to the Sunday School.

The North Essex Congregational Church is expected to meet at the South church on Monday evening, October 13th, when a supper will be served for two hundred by the ladies of the church.

The Endeavor Society calls for a large delegation to attend the first annual meeting of the fall in the Ballardvale church, on Monday evening.

Canning Without Sugar

Hathorne, Mass., Sept. 22, 1919

Editor: The present sugar shortage is very seriously influencing the canning of fruit in the home and the sale of fruits on the farm. The situation is an emergency one, and while it may soon be relieved, yet it is probable that such relief will come too late to be of much help in the canning season, particularly with peaches.

Many do not know that their fruits may be canned without sugar. All fruits will keep just as well when canned in water, as they will when canned in syrup if done by the "Cold Pack" method. Pack fruit in jar and pour hot water in to fill jar one-quarter inch from top. Sterilize the specified time for that variety of fruit. When these fruits are opened for use, pour the juice from jar into sauce pan, add sugar, bring to the boiling point and pour back over the fruit. Allow fruit to cool before using.

For your jellies, extract the juice from the fruit, concentrate one-half and can the same as the fruit. These juices may be made into jellies when sugar becomes available. By making your jelly later in the season, you will find you can have more flavors as you will have several kinds of juices on hand at once, also, it is cooler to do the work.

Fruit pulps may be concentrated and canned to be used later for fruit butters. That is cooked almost to the desired consistency and canned in the same way as fruit. The product may be finished when sugar is again obtainable. Peach butter may be made without any sugar and is very palatable when the ripe fruit is used.

Further information concerning sugarless canning may be obtained by writing or telephoning (Danvers 50) the Home Demonstration Agent at the Farm Bureau office, Essex County Agricultural School, Hathorne, Mass.

Punchard's First Game

Coach Eugene V. Lovely has been working hard all week whipping a team in shape for the first game of the year which will be played with Newburyport high eleven at Newburyport.

There is such an abundance of new reliable players that Coach Lovely will not know the line-up for Punchard until a little before the game. Twenty-five candidates have been reporting daily and it is certain that a good representation will make the trip tomorrow and of course, bring home the bacon.

The men met this week and unanimously elected Kenneth Coleman to manage the team and he will proceed to arrange a schedule which will in all probability include games with Pinkerton academy, Methuen, North Andover, Lowell, Wakefield, Lawrence, Exeter, and the game tomorrow which is already arranged with Newburyport high at Newburyport.

The following men are out for berths on the team: Captain Harry Payne, W. Dalton, E. Chandler, J. Clinton, R. Partridge, C. Chandler, J. Dyer, J. Kennelly, A. Dimick, B. Sullivan, G. Nicoll, B. Carter, B. Pratt, G. McCollum, N. Buchan, W. Dannels, W. Saunders, Kenneth Coleman, manager, J. Cole, F. Daley, A. Fallon, E. Lawrence, J. Comeau, S. Collins and D. D. Stack.

R. C. O. A. Dance Tonight

A joyful evening is assured everyone who has accepted the invitation to attend the informal dancing party to be held this evening in the R. C. O. A. hall. The committee in charge has secured the Kolumbus jazz orchestra of Lawrence, and all those who heard this trio perform in the same hall on the opening night of the Welcome Home celebration, will be pleased to know that this same combination will render the same inspiring music at the dance this evening. The committee in charge of private dances which are to be held this winter, includes: J. Everett Collins, chairman; Edward R. Lawson; Harold E. Larkin; George A. Abbott and Alexander R. Valentine.

Several public dances as well as private dances are to be held by the local club this winter and with the return of the service men, a repetition of the dances held in pre-war days is looked forward to.

A public dancing party in the town hall has already been decided upon, and the committee, consisting of Douglas Sparks, chairman; Robert Christie, George Collins, Eldred Larkin, George Knipe, Arthur Cole and William McKee has engaged the town hall for Monday evening, November 10th, the eve before Armistice Day.

After much discussion it was thought best to have the public dance on this night rather than the night of November 11th, as undoubtedly Armistice Day will be a national holiday, and many people will in all probability, make extensive plans other than dancing for this coming great day of thanksgiving.

Andover Eleven to Play Seven Games

Manager Harry Pole of the Phillips Andover football team has announced the following schedule:

Oct. 4—Cushing academy.
Oct. 11—Dean academy.
Oct. 18—N. H. State Fresh.
Oct. 25—Yale Fresh at New Haven
Nov. 1—Harvard Fresh.
Nov. 8—Worcester academy.
Nov. 15—Exeter at Exeter.

The number of candidates for the team has been increasing daily and several promising new men are among them.

Neidlinger, Scott, Wolfe, Ackerly, McCormack, Wingate, Koehler and Bush were some of the players out.

Aime La Tulippe of Lawrence and Leo Daley of this town, are both promising players and should be of great value to Coach Fred Daly. Both have had high school experience and with the necessary coaching they ought to have very little trouble in getting on the first squad.

Grange News

The regular meeting of the Grange was held in Grange hall on Tuesday evening. A musical evening in charge of the master, William H. Trauschke was scheduled for the evening, but owing to the fact that Mr. Trauschke has been sick and unable to carry out his plans, the program was changed to a discussion on the "High Cost of Living," its cause, its remedy and other points of interest. A spirited discussion in which all took part, was enjoyed by all.

We are sorry to hear of the serious illness of the president of our Woman's Club, Mrs. Everett Lundgren, and also that Samuel Boutwell our oldest member, had a slight shock, and we are glad to know that he is improving. The tidings of the death of sister Mary L. Kline left a feeling of sadness. She was a charter member of the Grange and for many years, an active worker in all branches of Grange work. The charter will be draped thirty days in honor to her memory. The next meeting will be October 14th. October 12th is "Everybody to Church Sunday" for all Grangers.

Pomona meeting will be October 2nd with West Boxford Grange. Subject, Living Up to Our Motto, "In God We Trust." Character above all things.

Forenoon address, "What Must the Farmer Do to Be Saved," E. J. Prescott, Westwood, Mass.

Afternoon address, "The Grange and the Church," "Our Boys in Khaki and at Home," West Boxford Grange will entertain. Violin music by Mr. Prescott.

This is the first meeting of the season and the program certainly merits a large attendance.

Methodist Bakery Sale

On Monday evening a successful bakery sale was held at the Methodist church, under the auspices of the Willing Workers. The committee in charge consisted of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Nason, Mrs. Stubbs, Mrs. Prudence Brown, Miss Ethel Howell and Earl Moody.

The proceeds of the sale are to be used for various needed improvements which are to be made in the church.

House Warming

Mrs. Harry Nason of Clark road was pleasantly surprised Wednesday evening when the Mothers' Club entered in a body and took possession of the house. In behalf of the club, Mrs. Holmes Bates presented Mrs. Nason with two beautiful pictures and a hand-painted china dish. Mrs. Nason thanked the mothers most cordially and a social time followed with refreshments of tea and the famous Mother's cake.

The Passing of the Village Grocery Store

It was with a pang of regret that the few old inhabitants in the vicinity have looked upon the closing of the village grocery store which, like many of its kind, has given place to modern developments.

Memory reaches back to the time when the store was owned by one Mr. Stimpson. Then, in 1864, Felix Haynes and A. L. Williams entered into partnership in the then typical country store. Groceries, dry goods, medicines, shoes, and all namable accessories were sold there, while the store itself was the rendezvous of young and old. Mr. Williams, however, soon left the firm and Bancroft Haynes entered the store for a period of two years. After that, Felix Haynes conducted the business alone until 1910, when D. H. Poor and J. Riley entered into a partnership which was marked by the installation of many new methods and commodities.

Recently, the doors of this store have been closed by the partners, the old-fashioned blinds are shut, and the worn wooden steps are no longer being trodden over by the village folks.

license had expired August 30th and he had failed to renew it.

The second accident of the day happened shortly after 8.00 p. m. when a Ford car going toward Reading, forced itself in front of an electric car going in the same direction and the result was the electric hit the Ford in the rear and threw the driver, Cornelius McDonald of 366 Crescent avenue, Chelmsford, and passengers, John Snow and Daniel Copley of 947 Broadway, Chelsea, and James Leddy of Boston, out of the machine and onto the ground between the wall and the track.

No injuries except that done to the Ford, which was in a demolished state, resulted. The case was brought before Judge Stone Monday and Cornelius McDonald was found guilty and fined $25.00 for operating a car under the influence of liquor.

John Snow of Chelsea and James Leddy of Boston, were each found guilty of drunkenness and fined $10.00 each. All three appealed and were held for the next sitting of the superior criminal court.

Reading road was the scene of another accident a little later in the evening, when a Packard machine owned by Francis Donnelly of 41 Ashton street, Boston, ran into Michael Checovitch who was driving a horse and team in the vicinity of the Clark house on Main street. Mr. Checovitch was thrown from his team and bruised in many places. His nose was broken and several teeth were knocked out.

He was also taken to the Lawrence General hospital.

Other passengers in the car were W. J. Buckley of Huntington avenue, George D. Pard of 1040 Boylston street, J. L. Barlow, 18 Haverhill street and Horace F. Knowles of 44 St. Germain street, all of Boston.

James Holden, sixteen, of 48 Andover street; George Carnes, sixteen, of 159 Abbott street; Chester Hill, fifteen, of 90 Osgood street; Eugene Casey, sixteen, of 258 Farnham street, South Lawrence, and Rennie Bottomley, sixteen, of 94 Marblehead street, North Andover, were also before the court charged with creating a disturbance in Frye Village, Sunday night. They were given a severe lecture by Judge Stone and warned of the consequences of a repetition of the disturbance.

James Sullivan was arrested Wednesday morning on a charge of drunkenness and refusing to pay his fare. He was tried in the afternoon by Judge Stone and was found guilty.

Joseph Raivea of 47 Shaw street, Lawrence, made the complaint and told the court that Mr. Sullivan had him drive him to Andover, and upon his arrival, refused to pay the charges which were $2.50. He was ordered to pay $4.00 to the taxi driver, Joseph Raivea, which included the trip to Andover and the trip earlier in the day. The case of drunkenness was placed on file.

Thursday in Court

Richard Thalmers of 283 Whitwell street, Quincy, was found guilty in the police court Thursday afternoon by Judge Stone for operating a motorcycle without a license and refusing to stop when ordered by an officer. He was fined forty dollars, twenty dollars on each charge.

Patrick Nuttle of 18 Garden Court, Boston, was found guilty of operating a motor vehicle at an excessive rate of speed on Main street, and fined twenty dollars.

Miran Berrerian of 16 Highland road, West Somerville, was fined ten dollars for operating a truck owned by Berrerian Brothers without a license.

Frank Dempsey of 551 East 8th street South Boston, was found guilty by the court on a complaint made by William B. Hackett of South Main street. The court was told that the automobile party in which Dempsey was the chauffeur, deliberately stopped opposite Mr. Hackett's apple orchard on Labor Day and the passengers stole several barrels of apples. The defendant was questioned by Judge Stone and declared that he unfortunately had to stop in that vicinity to put oil in his machine, and denied rendering any intentional assistance to the passengers so that they could take the fruit. As it seems that excuses of a similar nature are depended on by the majority of law breakers, Judge Stone found him guilty for being one of the crowd and imposed a fine of fifteen dollars on him. Mr. Dempsey appealed and the case will be brought up in the superior court the first Monday in December.

"Harvard to Start War on Cliques" was a startling headline that introduced a newspaper story this week. The great Cambridge University has started a reorganization of the Harvard Union, the undergraduates' gathering place, and by having annual dues of $5.00 reduced from $10.00 it is planned to make this a club within the means of every student. Exclusiveness and cliques are to be warred against. All students may belong to this club and it will be run along the lines of a large city club.

"A War on Cliques." That "clique" subject has been much discussed for many years. We may even venture to surmise that Noah had to contend with the hated thing when on the Ark. Certainly colleges and prep schools and towns and cities know well the meaning of the word. And yet where do all these Wars on Cliques ever get to? Will lowering a club dues from $10.00 to $5.00 keep certain men from getting together in groups and giving the appearance of being exclusive?

Theoretically it is fine and noble for a college to start a war on cliques. In several women's colleges during the past ten years secret societies have been asked to cease to perpetuate, because it was felt that an unfair privilege came to a chosen few, which privilege could not be shared by all. And so those societies did cease to perpetuate. Yet when the graduates came out into the "big, wide world" they had to see some of their numbers taken into clubs or "sets" or whatever one chooses to call them. Whatever the name, the idea suggested is "clique."

In this very town you often hear that the so-and-so's and the so-and-so's have their own little clique — Andover is full of separate little "bunches" of people.

What's to do about it?

Talk all you like, — start out and propagate a little "War on Cliques" and where do you get? Nowhere. And why? Because as long as this dear old world exists there are going to be certain persons who are drawn to each other by something we might as well call "friendship." Congenial persons will always find each other out and they will naturally want to be together. Those persons who have something in common will enjoy each other and get and give the most to each other. Thank heaven the world is big enough for everybody to find somebody congenial. And anybody who has a congenial friend can have a private little clique that will match the most exclusive club in town.

The reason the poor old be-tossed and be-smutched word gets such a hard reception is because there has come to be associated with it "snobbishness." That of all words in the English language deserves to receive black looks. There may be a "clique" of "snobs" because they have "snobbishness" in common. But that doesn't necessarily make all the other happy, helpful groups of persons who like each other, snobs.

"Clique and let clique" we say to the War Wagers Against Cliques.

Someone asked for the poem, "America For Me" by Henry van Dyke, and it is given below.

'Tis fine to see the Old World and travel up and down
Among the famous palaces and cities of renown.
To admire the crumbly castles and the statues of the kings —
But now I think I've had enough of antiquated things.

So it's home again, and home again, America for me!
My heart is turning home again, and there I long to be.

In the land of youth and freedom beyond the ocean bars,
Where the air is full of sunlight and the flag is full of stars.

Oh, London is a man's town, there's power in the air;
And Paris is a woman's town, with flowers in her hair;
And it's sweet to dream in Venice, and it's great to study Rome;
But when it comes to living there is no place like home.

I like the German fir-woods, in green battalions drilled;
I like the gardens of Versailles with flashing fountains filled;
But, oh, to take your hand, my dear, and ramble for a day

In the friendly western woodland where Nature has her way!
I know that Europe's wonderful, yet something seems to lack:
The Past is too much with her, and the people looking back.

But the glory of the Present is to make the Future free.
We love our land for what she is and what she is to be.

Oh, it's home again, and home again, America for me!
I want a ship that's westward bound to plow the rolling sea,
To the blessed Land of Room Enough beyond the ocean bars,
Where the air is full of sunlight and the flag is full of stars.

Have it done now before the Fall rush.

Buchan & Francis

12 MAIN STREET

Now is the time to fix that leaky roof.

WHY REYNOLDS SHINGLES ARE THE BEST:

Reynolds shingles were the first asphalt shingles made.

They have had more years actual roof-test service than any other asphalt shingle.

They have been on roofs for eighteen years and are still found to be in good condition.

They are surfaced with granulated rock, slate, etc., and the natural colors are retained — reds, greens and gray — non-fading, beautiful.

Reynolds shingles are guaranteed — They will not split, rust, curl, leak nor blow off.

Economical to buy, economical to lay, no repairs or painting required.

Reynolds shingles possess the three cardinal shingle virtues — Beauty, Durability and Economy.

The mineral surfacing acts as a fire-preventive, making an insulation against flying sparks and brands. These shingles have been tested in the insurance underwriters laboratories and have been officially approved as fire-retardants.

Do not be misled into thinking all Asphalt shingles are alike — They are not. There are as many grades of Asphalt shingles as there are names. Reynolds shingles are the improved, approved, and proven best to use.
